NPQEYL
Welcome
Letter

February 2023

Dear Participant,

Huge congratulations on being accepted on to our NPQEYL Programme. As we know, research tells us that leadership is second only to teaching in making a difference to outcomes for young people. The programme you are embarking on will further enhance the contributions you can make to this.

The NPQEYL aims to help you to lead great quality teaching and curriculum, and is specifically targeted at Early Years, because we recognise the importance of this phase.

The aim of this letter is to help you begin to familiarise yourself with the programme and to start feeling ready for the exciting challenges and opportunities ahead of you.

Here is a breakdown of your programme of study for the next 18 months:

National Professional Qualification for Early Years Leadership (NPQEYL)

All NPQs in the suite have been carefully constructed with some key areas of learning in mind, and these are listed below:

Course structure and approach

The NPQEYL has 18 months of study followed by an assessment period.

Our flexible study approach is underpinned by high quality, web-based self-study with plenty of online discussion with your peers and support from your course leader.

You will have heard from TDT when your national online seminar is, but you will also find the information about that, and the dates and venues of all other activities listed in the attached calendar. Key activities in these sessions will include:

Your facilitators will be:

Victoria Abrahamart
victorialouiseabrahart@gmail.com

Victoria has been working as an Early Years professional for over 25 years. She is a qualified teacher, and has experience in a variety of roles: Early Years Improvement Adviser (working with PVIs, childminders and schools across the West Midlands); Early Years leader; SENCo; Children's Centre Teacher, and an Early Years Advisory Teacher. Victoria has a particular interest in early learning and development. She has worked with researchers and authors to develop and deliver Early Years specific projects. She views learning as a lifelong process and a progressive journey, and continues to collaborate with professionals to strengthen and support her ongoing professional developments.

Caroline Albanese
calbanese@stjames.tgacademy.org.uk

Caroline completed a Post Graduate Certificate in Education to become a qualified teacher in 2004. After gaining extensive senior management experience across several primary schools as an Early Years Lead and Deputy Head of School, Caroline is now an Early Years Advisor with Tudor Grange Academy Trust. Caroline also provides regular support and quality assurance services to early years setting outside of the trust. In addition to this, Caroline is a qualified professional development tutor, leading professional development within early years leadership, early mathematics and language and communication. Caroline is committed to raising standards and improving outcomes for learners across the early years sector.

Victoria and Caroline will be your first port of call with any queries relating to your NPQ, if you have any further questions do contact us.

Facilitators have completed extensive training so that they can support you in your programme. Asynchronous engagement in discussion boards will enable your facilitators to craft the sessions to suit your contexts, and to respond to questions you may have, using the materials provided by TDT.

This is such an exciting time for us in the profession – the suite of professional qualifications will enable us to question our own tacit knowledge and theories of action, so that we can make evidence-based decisions in our schools. The fundamentals of school improvement depend on the culture of improvement and strong relational trust that will ensue.

Expectations during sessions

1. Attendance at sessions is mandatory. This includes webinars and face-to-face sessions.
2. During face-to-face sessions, participants are expected to wear professional dress.
3. During webinars, participants are expected to have cameras on and be able to use a microphone. The sessions are interactive, and use break-out rooms to discuss provocations, and thus engagement via camera and microphone is essential.
4. This is your space to learn, and we would ask that you put aside all other environmental distractions and priorities to engage fully in the sessions.
5. Your participation and engagement are pre-requisites to enable you and your colleagues to optimise the learning opportunities. This will mean that your preparation, using the asynchronous materials, in advance, is key, and that you are ready to respectfully share your perspectives on these. The programme will endeavour to enable you to question your own theories of action, so that you might enhance decision making in your own setting and others that you might encounter.
6. It is expected during the session for you to wear a red lanyard and not leave the lodge without being accompanied by TGAT staff.

We hope this serves as a useful introduction to your qualification. On the next page, you will find details of the schedule, including the dates of the various elements of the programme, some of which are local sessions and other are national events. TDT will be organising the national events and you should await further information from them regarding these elements.

We are really looking forward to working with you. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to get in touch, using the following email address: tsh@tgacademy.org.uk
